

Tips for Parents

This game is designed as a conversation starter to learn more about how to be safe online, and the safety features available on Club Penguin.

The internet is an amazing resource when used wisely. Empowering your children with information can help them make the most of being online and surf safely.

General top tips for safe internet use to share with your child wherever they go online

- Never give out personal information online. Your real name, age, email address, where you live, phone number or school (your child is not able to share personal information on Club Penguin).
- Never share your password with anyone, except your parents. Someone else might use your password and pretend to be you.
- If someone does or says anything online to make you feel uncomfortable, tell your parent or guardian right away.

Your Child's Penguin Name and Password

Record your child's penguin name here – once they've logged in a few times they'll remember it but they're probably going to turn to you if they forget! Remind your child not to share their password with others, even their friends – but it's a good idea for you to record it somewhere safe for them.

's penguin name is _____

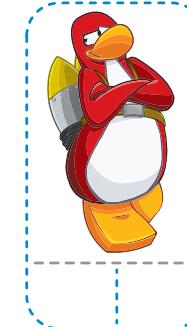

The Club Penguin password is: _____

How to Play

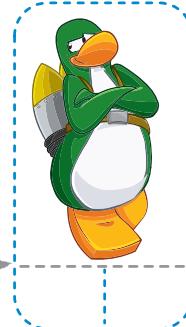

You will need:

- a die
- the penguin counters, cut out
- the quiz cards, cut out and kept in two separate piles for Safety and Trivia

- Place the penguin counters on the launch pad. Both players roll the die. The player with the biggest number starts first.
- Roll the die to determine by how many spaces you move forward.
- When you land on a space with either a or symbol on, your opponent must ask you a question from the relevant pack:
 for Online Safety questions
 for Club Penguin Trivia
- If you land on a space which has both symbols , you get to decide whether you answer a Safety or Trivia question.
- If you answer the question correctly, you can roll the die and move forward on your next turn. You must then answer the question on the space where you have landed.
- If you answer the question incorrectly, you must stay where you are and wait for your next turn to answer another question from the same category.
- If you land on a space with the Fuel Can , you get to fly 3 spaces forward.
- If you land on a space with an anvil , you fall back 3 spaces.
- The first player to reach the FINISH space wins!
